Some assets could be classified into more than one category or require discretion about which category applies. You may use your own internal methodologies and the conventions of your service providers in determining how to categorize assets, so long as the methodologies or conventions are consistently applied and consistent with information you report internally and to current and prospective clients. However, you should not double count assets, and your responses must be consistent with any instructions or other guidance relating to this Section.

Use a separate DRP for each event or proceeding. The same event or proceeding may be reported for more than one person or entity using one DRP. File with a completed Execution Page.

One event may result in more than one affirmative answer to Items 11.C., 11.D., 11.E., 11.F. or 11.G. Use only one DRP to report details related to the same event. If an event gives rise to actions by more than one regulator, provide details for each action on a separate DRP.

If you are registered or registering with the SEC, you may remove a DRP for any event listed in Item 11 that occurred more than ten years ago.

- This DRP should be removed from the ADV record because it was filed in error, such as due to a clerical or data-entry mistake. Explain the circumstances:

B. If the advisory affiliate is registered through the IARD system or CRD system, has the advisory affiliate submitted a DRP (with Form ADV, BD or U-4) to the IARD or CRD for the event? If the answer is "Yes," no other information on this DRP must be provided.

ON APRIL 8, 2013, THE SWISS FINANCIAL MARKET SUPERVISORY AUTHORITY FINMA FILED A COMPLAINT WITH THE FEDERAL DEPARTMENT OF FINANCE FDF ("FDF"), ALLEGING THAT BLACK CREEK VIOLATED ARTICLE 20 OF THE SWISS FEDERAL ACT ON STOCK EXCHANGES AND SECURITIES TRADING ("SESTA") BY FAILING TO SUBMIT A REQUIRED NOTIFICATION TO THE SIX SWISS EXCHANGE WITHIN FOUR TRADING DAYS OF THE OBLIGATION TO NOTIFY HAVING BEEN CREATED. BLACK CREEK RECEIVED A SANCTION NOTICE FROM THE FDF PURSUANT TO WHICH WE AGREED TO PAY A FINE IN THE AMOUNT OF APPROXIMATELY $3,300. THE FINE AND ASSOCIATED LEGAL FEES WERE PAID IN FULL. IN A DECISION DATED JULY 29, 2013, THE SWISS FEDERAL SUPREME COURT RULED THAT THE LEGAL BASIS OF THE DISCLOSURE OBLIGATION FOR WHICH BLACK CREEK WAS SANCTIONED (ARTICLE 9 PARAGRAPH 2 OF SESTO-FINMA) WAS INVALID DUE TO LACK OF SUFFICIENT LEGAL FOUNDATION. IN LIGHT OF THIS DECISION, WHICH WAS RENDERED BEFORE THE SANCTION WAS ISSUED BY THE FDF, IT IS ARGUABLE THAT BLACK CREEK HAD NO DISCLOSURE OBLIGATION AND THE SANCTION BY THE FDF WAS HENCE UNJUSTIFIED.

ITEM 4. ADVISORY BUSINESS

A. Description of the Advisory Firm. Black Creek is a company originally incorporated under the laws of Canada in 2004, amalgamated with its parent company in 2008, reorganized in 2014, and controlled by common stockholders: Kakabeka Holdings Inc., which owns approximately 30% of the voting common stock of Black Creek; Sattel Investments Limited, which owns approximately 30% of the voting common stock of Black Creek; and other shareholders, who collectively own approximately 40% of the voting common stock of Black Creek. No one individual or entity included in “other shareholders” holds or controls more than 10% of voting common stock of Black Creek.

Kakabeka Holdings Inc. is controlled by the Kanko Family Trust, which owns 100% of the company’s voting common stock. Nanibijou Holdings (2008) Inc. also owns non-voting shares of Kakabeka Holdings Inc. Nanibijou Holdings Inc. is controlled exclusively by Bill Kanko, who owns 100% of the company’s voting common stock. Sattel Investments Limited is controlled by the Jenkins Family Trust (2008), which owns 100% of the company’s voting common stock. Culzean International Inc. also owns non-voting shares of Sattel Investments Limited. Culzean International Inc. is controlled exclusively by Richard Jenkins, who owns 100% of the company’s voting common stock.

B. Types of Advisory Services. We provide investment management services, on a fully discretionary basis, to our clients. Our goal is to provide capital growth over the long-term through investment in common equities.

Our investment strategy is described in more detail below in Item 8.

We specialize in the management of global equities. We currently manage segregated global equity portfolios for institutional accounts and privately offered investment vehicles in the U.S., and we act as sub-adviser to other registered investment advisers and to retail mutual funds offered in Canada. We offer both global and international (EAFE) management capabilities.

C. Client Services and Client Imposed Restrictions. At the commencement of the relationship, we and our client agree upon the investment objectives and appropriate levels of risk and restrictions on investments, as set forth in each client’s investment management agreement (“IMA”). Under each IMA, we assume discretionary responsibility for the day-to-day management and investment of all securities, cash and other investment instruments agreed upon with the client.

D. Wrap Fee Program. We do not participate in any Wrap Fee programs.

E. Amounts Under Management. As of November 30, 2021, we manage approximately the following assets.

Discretionary Assets	$10,835,555,861
Non-Discretionary Assets	$57,315,848
Total	$10,892,871,709

ITEM 5. FEES AND COMPENSATION

A. Compensation for Advisory Services. Fees are subject to negotiation. The negotiation of fees may result in similarly situated clients paying different fees for comparable advisory services.

We charge a fee expressed as a percentage of the total value of the assets under management (“AUM”) for a given client, generally determined at the end of each month (or quarter). The fees we charge vary based on the investment strategy employed and other factors. No minimum fee is charged, however there may be a minimum initial investment required. This amount will vary depending on the client’s desired investment strategy but will generally be $100 million or more. We may offer reduced fees to certain clients, including large or strategic investors.

Our basic fee structure is:

Figures below represented as percentage (%) of AUM
November 30, 2021

	Client AUM	Management Fee
First	50,000,000	0.75%*
Next	50,000,000	0.70%*
Next	150,000,000	0.60%*
Next	250,000,000	0.55%*

*Percentages do not include custodial expenses that may also be payable by the client

B. Payment of Fees. Fees are generally payable quarterly in arrears, according to the terms of the IMA. Fees may be withdrawn directly from a client’s account or the client may be separately billed.

C. Clients Are Responsible for Third-Party Fees. Our fees are exclusive of brokerage commissions, “spread,” transaction fees and other related costs and expenses, which are the responsibility of the client. Clients may also incur certain charges imposed by custodians, brokers and other service providers such as custodial fees, deferred sales charges, odd-lot differentials, transfer taxes, wire transfer and electronic fund fees, and other fees and taxes on brokerage accounts and securities transactions.

D. Prepayment of Fees. We do not require the prepayment of fees.

E. Other Compensation. Neither Black Creek nor any of our employees receive compensation for selling securities or other investment products.

ITEM 6. PERFORMANCE-BASED FEES AND SIDE-BY-SIDE MANAGEMENT

We have performance-based fee arrangements with certain clients, in addition to our standard AUM based fee arrangements. Our fundamental investing approach focuses on the long term and individual issuer strength; therefore, all accounts are managed in the same way, regardless of whether the fee structure is performance based or AUM based.

ITEM 7. TYPES OF CLIENTS

Our clients generally are institutional investors, including pension plans and charitable organizations, as well as privately offered investment vehicles in the U.S. We also provide discretionary investment management services as sub-adviser to other registered investment advisers and retail mutual funds offered in Canada.

ITEM 8. METHODS OF ANALYSIS, INVESTMENT STRATEGIES AND RISK OF LOSS

A. Methods of Analysis and Investment Strategy. We take a fundamental approach to investing in common equities. We approach any potential investment as would an experienced business person looking to acquire the entire company. We view the investment process as one of buying businesses with our own money and that of our partners in order to grow capital over time.

We take a long-term view of the world and strive to understand the economics and characteristics of different businesses and industries. When we study any particular company, we also look at its competitors and the industry overall. We study historical financial performance, trends and technological changes in the business, sensitivities to economic factors, and other factors that may affect the future economics of the business. Most importantly, we try to discern any special competitive advantages that the company of interest might have, and whether these advantages are sustainable.

We look for growing businesses; companies that are leaders in their markets and which are gaining market share; businesses for which there are high barriers to entry; companies with significant and sustainable competitive advantages; and companies with honest and competent management who care about shareholders. Not all of our investments meet all of these criteria, but these remain our preferences.

In looking at a potential investment, we strive to develop a proprietary position or relatively unique viewpoint about that company compared to other investors. We try to form some view of what the company will look like in the future, and what its earning power will be, to the surprise of other investors. We then determine what we would be willing to pay for this company in order to achieve a reasonable return. This independent thinking is a major part of our value-added over time.

We strive to buy good businesses with high-quality management at fair or attractive prices. We try to determine a fair price by making judgments about what “normalized economic earnings” are for a business, and the rate at which these earnings will grow in the future. Because we do not know precisely what these variables will be, we must make estimates and judgments about the future. Business valuation is not an exact science. We are neither “growth” nor “value” investors. To value a business, you must be able to judge the future growth of earnings (free cash flow) for that business; hence, growth and value are not independent of each other.

We invest in individual business ideas for a client’s portfolio, and we do not try to time markets, trade for short-term gains, or alter the portfolio significantly for any particular economic or interest rate outlook. We also refrain from taking sector views and bets, either by industry or geography.

It is important to define one's investment universe or circle of competence. We must be able to distinguish between what we know versus what we don't know. There are particular businesses and industries where we know very little, and many regions of the world where our knowledge level is low as well. We avoid those areas where our knowledge is low until we have sufficient confidence that our knowledge and experience is suitable for investing there.

We compare companies in similar businesses across geographic borders to aid in our decision-making. That is why we eschew "pie-chart" investing, where holdings are grouped and measured by geography. We do not pay any attention to index weights, either by country or by sector. Because we are not "closet-indexers", the performance of the portfolio will likely tend to be very different from that of the major stock indices at various points in time. If in fact we are adding value to this process, it will only show up in the performance numbers over a long period of time.

A client's portfolio thus becomes a collection of individual business ideas. There is a conscious diversification of the holdings in the portfolio. The ideas are diversified by business and industry, region, technology, management, and other factors. Any new investment idea must "fit" with the rest of the portfolio in this context.

We choose to have a relatively concentrated portfolio. We take a much larger position in companies where the conviction of our idea is strong. Having fewer holdings allows us to know and follow the companies better and maintains our selling discipline: if we find an idea that we really want to own, we must make room for it in the portfolio by selling our least favorite idea. We believe that too many holdings result in too much diversification and hence average performance.

We view risk as the possibility of permanent loss of capital; therefore, in analyzing a company, we prefer to have a built-in margin of safety through the price that we are willing to pay for the business. We do not view risk as the volatility of the portfolio relative to any index over a short period of time.

We may, for certain clients, invest in or use derivative instruments. The derivatives that we may use include, but are not limited to, options, futures and forwards, for both hedging and non-hedging purposes. We may also use derivatives to add exposure to the asset classes in a client's portfolio if we consider them to be attractive.

"Investing in securities involves risk of loss that clients should be prepared to bear."

B. Material Risks Involved

General Investment Risks: All investors bear certain risks when investing their money, regardless of the asset class, sector or instrument chosen. Securities or other financial instruments may fluctuate in value or lose value or may expose a client account to counterparty risks. While we seek to manage such risks, there can be no guarantee that we will be successful or that you will not suffer losses.

The primary risk of investing in equity securities is that they may decline in value for a variety of reasons, including a broad market downturn, unfavorable developments affecting an entire industry, and specific events affecting a single company.

C. Additional Risks of Investing in Equity Securities

Market Risk: An investment in equity securities should be made with an understanding of the risks involved with owning common stocks, such as an economic recession and the possible deterioration of either the financial condition of the issuers of the equity securities or the general condition of the stock market.

In addition, local, regional or global events such as war, acts of terrorism, spread of infectious diseases or other public health issues, recessions, or other events could have a significant negative impact on the value of equity securities and other financial instruments. Such events may affect certain geographic regions, countries, sectors and industries more significantly than others. Such events could adversely affect the prices and liquidity of equity securities or other financial instruments and could result in disruptions in the trading markets.

Foreign Security Risk: An investment in foreign stocks is subject to additional risks, including foreign currency fluctuations, foreign political risks, foreign withholding, possible lack of adequate financial information and possible exchange control restrictions impacting foreign issuers. These risks may be more pronounced in emerging markets where the securities markets are substantially smaller, less liquid, less regulated and more volatile than developed foreign markets.

Issuer Specific Risk: The value of an equity security may decline because of negative events or circumstances that directly relate to conditions at the issuer, its affiliates, or to any entity providing it credit support.

Concentration Risk: A portfolio may be concentrated in a particular industry or sector which involves more risk than a broadly diversified portfolio.

Derivatives Risk: We may use derivatives such as options, futures and forwards, for hedging purposes and non-hedging purposes, such as to adjust overall exposures. There is no guarantee that any hedging strategy will be effective or that a portfolio invested in derivatives will not experience a loss. There is also no guarantee that a market will exist for certain derivatives, which could prevent us from selling or exiting the derivative contract prior to the maturity of the contract, which may restrict a portfolio's ability to realize profits or limit losses. There is also a risk that a portfolio could experience a loss if the other party to a derivative contract entered into is unable to fulfill its obligations or if it becomes insolvent.

Liquidity risk: Liquidity risk is the possibility that a portfolio will not be able to convert its investments to cash when it needs to. The value of securities that are not regularly traded (less liquid) will generally be subject to greater fluctuations.

Historical results of the Adviser: Our past performance results are not necessarily indicative of the future performance. The asset mix and investment strategy of a portfolio will differ from other portfolios we manage and as a result may experience different performance attributes. Although a portfolio may be similar to one or more portfolios we advise, the portfolio is generally managed separately with its own distinct investment objectives, policies, risks and expenses. In addition, anticipated investments for a portfolio will be highly dependent on current and prospective market trends, interest rates, credit performance, counterparty exposures and as a result, may experience highly different performance attributes.

ITEM 9. DISCIPLINARY INFORMATION

On April 8, 2013, the Swiss Financial Market Supervisory Authority FINMA filed a complaint with the Federal Department of Finance FDF (“FDF”), alleging that Black Creek violated Article 20 of the Swiss Federal Act on Stock Exchanges and Securities Trading (“SESTA”) by failing to submit a required notification to the SIX Swiss Exchange within four trading days of the obligation to notify having been created. Black Creek received a sanction notice from the FDF pursuant to which we agreed to pay a fine in the amount of approximately $3,300. The fine and associated legal fees were paid in full. In a Decision dated July 29, 2013, the Swiss Federal Supreme Court ruled that the legal basis of the disclosure obligation for which Black Creek was sanctioned (Article 9 Paragraph 2 of SESTO-FINMA) was invalid due to lack of sufficient legal foundation. In light of this decision, which was rendered before the sanction was issued by the FDF, it is arguable that Black Creek had no disclosure obligation and the sanction by the FDF was hence unjustified.

On Tuesday, May 12, 2015 the Central Bank of Ireland’s Securities and Markets Supervision Division notified Black Creek that it failed to notify an issuer in a timely fashion when a prescribed disclosure threshold had been crossed as required under the Transparency Regulations (Directive 2004/109/EC) 2007 and Rule 7.4 of the Central Bank of Ireland’s Transparency Rules. The Central Bank of Ireland has notified Black Creek that it does not intend to take any further action at this time.

On Thursday, March 21, 2019, BaFin, the German Federal Financial Supervisory Authority, notified Black Creek that it failed to notify BaFin and an issuer in a timely fashion when a prescribed disclosure threshold had been crossed as required under Section 33 et seq. of the German Securities Trading Act. BaFin has notified Black Creek that it does not intend to take any further action at this time.

There are no other legal or disciplinary events that are material to a client’s or prospective client’s evaluation of this advisory business or the integrity of our management.

ITEM 10. OTHER FINANCIAL INDUSTRY ACTIVITIES AND AFFILIATIONS

Our sole business is providing investment advisory services to our clients. We are not engaged in any other business endeavor.

A. Registration as a Broker/Dealer or Broker/Dealer Representative. Neither we nor any management person are registered as a broker/dealer or as representatives of a broker/dealer.

B. Registration as a Futures Commission Merchant, Commodity Pool Operator, or a Commodity Trading Advisor. Neither we nor any of our management persons are registered as an FCM, CPO or CTA.

C. Relationships Material to this Advisory Business and Possible Conflicts of Interest. As noted above, we provide discretionary investment management services as sub-adviser to retail mutual funds offered in Canada; however, we do not see any material conflicts of interest arising in connection with this sub-advisory relationship. In some cases, in our Canadian advisory business, a potential client may be in a position to choose between investing in a mutual fund sub-advised by Black Creek and in a fund managed directly by Black Creek, at different fee levels to Black Creek.

We also serve as the general partner and investment advisor for the Black Creek International Equity Fund, LP, a privately offered investment vehicle in the U.S.; however, we do not see any material conflicts of interest arising in connection with this advisory relationship.

D. We do not have any relationships with other investment advisers that create a material conflict of interest.

ITEM 11. CODE OF ETHICS, PARTICIPATION OR INTEREST IN CLIENT TRANSACTIONS AND PERSONAL TRADING

A. Code of Ethics. We have adopted a Code of Ethics (“Code”) pursuant to the Investment Advisers Act of 1940 (“Advisers Act”) Rule 204A-1. This includes provisions to address ethical standards of behavior, conflicts of interest, personal account trading, the reporting of violations of the Code and other requirements. We treat all employees as “access persons” and “supervised persons,” as defined in the Advisers Act and Rule 206(4)-7. Certain provisions of the Code cover their “connected persons” (spouses and minor dependents living in their households). Key areas covered by the Code are:

- standards of professional conduct and prohibition against the misuse of material non-public information;
- personal trading policies (pre-clearance, reporting and analysis);
- limits on and reporting of gifts and entertainment;
- dealing with conflicts of interest;
- respecting Black Creek corporate and client confidential information; and
- requiring the reporting to the CCO of any violations of the Code.

This is a summary of our Code. We will provide you with a copy of our Code upon request.

B. Recommendations Involving Material Financial Interests. We do not recommend to clients, or buy or sell for client accounts, securities in which we or a related person have a material financial interest.

C. Investing Personal Money in the Same Securities as Clients. We generally only invest in the same funds as our clients; however, we never trade in individual securities held by our funds. Outside investing by Black Creek employees is discouraged, monitored and subject to prior approval for all transactions.

D. Trading Securities At/Around the Same Time as Clients' Securities. As noted above, Black Creek employees are prohibited from trading in individual securities held by our clients.

It is the expressed policy of Black Creek that no person employed by us shall place his or her own interests ahead of those of an advisory client or make personal investment decisions based on the investment decisions made for advisory clients.

ITEM 12. BROKERAGE AND TRADING PRACTICES

A. Factors Used to Select Broker-Dealers/Counterparties. We receive authority from our clients pursuant to IMAs, which authorize us to select brokers and dealers through which to execute transactions on behalf of the clients. We are generally not required to provide notice to, consult with or seek the consent of clients prior to engaging in transactions.

We have an obligation to our clients to seek “best execution” for our clients’ securities transactions, which in our view is a combination of both price and service. While the best net price, giving effect to brokerage commissions, if any, and other transaction costs is normally an important factor in this decision, other factors may also be considered. We consider various factors in selecting broker-dealers for client transactions including commission rates, expertise in specific markets or types of securities, speed and responsiveness, financial strength, and compatibility with our systems. As a result, we may pay a brokerage commission in excess of that which another broker might have charged for executing the same transaction.

Soft Dollars. In certain instances, we may select a broker that provides us with products and services other than order execution, such as research products or services, which are provided in accordance with Section 28(e) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (“Soft Dollars”). These research products and services may include, among others, information on the economy, industries, groups of securities, individual companies, statistical information, accounting and tax interpretations, political developments, technical market action, pricing and appraisal services, proxy and corporate action analysis, credit analysis, risk measurement analysis, performance analysis, and analysis of corporate responsibility issues. Such research products or services may be received in a variety of formats including: written reports, telephone contact and personal meetings with security analysts and corporate and industry spokespersons, access to computer-generated data, computer software, and meetings arranged with economists, academicians, and government representatives.

When a broker provides us with research products or services in connection with client transactions that we would otherwise have to pay for at our own expense, we may have an incentive to place a greater volume of transactions with such broker or pay a higher commission than may otherwise be the case. This could result in a conflict of interest. Research products and services provided by brokers will benefit all of our clients and not just those that paid for the benefits. This also means that, in some cases, certain clients may bear more of the cost of soft dollar arrangements than other clients.

In an instance where we receive a product or service that is not considered order execution or “research” under Section 28(e) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, we will make a good faith determination of the portion of the cost attributable to non-research usage of such product or service and such amount will be paid to the broker directly by us.

We do not select or recommend broker-dealers in exchange for client referrals from any broker-dealer.

B. We may seek to aggregate trades for the purchase or sale of a specific security from several clients, as a single transaction, in order to seek lower brokerage commissions or to obtain a more advantageous net price. The benefit, if any, from such an aggregated trade is generally allocated pro-rata among the accounts of clients which participated in the aggregated order.

ITEM 13. REVIEW OF ACCOUNTS

A. Frequency and Nature of Periodic Reviews and Who Is Responsible for Reviews. We maintain continuous scrutiny of our performance, the positions in the accounts we manage and also the consequences of risk. Our compliance team and portfolio managers conduct daily review of the investment activities in each client account in an effort to ensure that the assets are managed in conformity with the stated investment objectives and restrictions.

B. We generally do not review client accounts other than on a periodic basis.

C. Content and Frequency of Regular Reports Provided to Clients. Clients typically receive or have access to, on a minimum quarterly basis: (i) statements from the applicable account custodian, which include, among other things, the change in value of their accounts since the last reports that were provided, and (ii) communications from us explaining recent trading activity. Clients typically receive on an annual basis: (i) statements from the applicable account custodian containing performance information based on an agreed upon set of procedures. We also may provide reports to clients that are tailored to meet client requests.

ITEM 14. CLIENT REFERRALS AND OTHER COMPENSATION

Typically, we do not compensate any third-party for referring clients to Black Creek; however, in limited circumstances, we may pay a referral fee, commission or other compensation to certain unaffiliated broker-dealers or investment advisers in connection with the referral of institutional clients for advisory services. The compensation may be in the form of a fixed fee, a percentage of the client’s assets under management or a percentage of Black Creek’s advisory fee. In all cases the recipient and amount of, or formula used to compute, the referral compensation will be disclosed in writing to the client prior to execution of the advisory agreement between Black Creek and the client.

ITEM 15. CUSTODY

Black Creek does have custody of certain client assets. All such funds and securities are held at a qualified custodian. Clients are not to submit funds payable to Black Creek but should instead submit funds directly to their custodian. All clients receive statements of account holdings from their custodian not less than quarterly, and in most cases, monthly. We urge clients to review carefully statements from the custodian and compare the custodial records to the reports that we provide them.

ITEM 16. INVESTMENT DISCRETION

As discussed above, we have discretionary authority to manage the assets in a client's account subject to the investment limitations and restrictions set out in the IMA. Before undertaking such investment discretion, we review the IMA for conflicts and ensure that the Statement of Investment Policies and Procedures matches with our abilities and objectives. We also conduct Anti Money Laundering and Terrorist Watch List checks.

ITEM 17. VOTING CLIENT SECURITIES

A. Our proxy voting policies and procedures are adopted to ensure compliance with Rule 206(4)-6 under the Advisers Act and are designed and implemented in a manner reasonably expected to ensure that proxy voting is exercised in the best interests of our clients. For purposes of these policies and procedures, proxy voting includes any voting rights, consent rights or other voting authority of ours on behalf of clients but shall not include matters which are primarily investment decisions, including tender offers, exchange offers, conversions, put options, redemptions and Dutch auctions.

We have a fiduciary responsibility in the holding of shares for our clients and view good corporate governance as an important contributor to corporate performance and long-term investment returns. Therefore, it is important that we vote client shares when we have the opportunity. In doing so, we strive to think and act as long-term owners of the companies in which we invest and will vote on proxy issues accordingly.

Proxies will be voted in a manner that seeks to maximize long-term shareholder value.

Black Creek as an entity does not vote proxies for companies. The responsibility for voting proxies resides with the individual portfolio manager who has chosen to invest in a given company for our clients. We feel that the individual portfolio manager has undertaken the fundamental analysis of the company and is in the best position to judge whether a particular item up for vote should be supported or not.

B. Clients who reserve the right to vote their own proxies will receive proxies or other solicitations directly from their custodian. Clients can contact Black Creek at any time with questions about a particular solicitation.

ITEM 18. FINANCIAL INFORMATION

A. Not applicable.

B. We have discretionary authority over clients' accounts and therefore are required to disclose to clients any financial condition that is reasonably likely to impair our ability to meet our contractual commitments to our clients. Clients are advised that management has determined that we have no such financial condition to disclose.

C. Not applicable.
